Today's nonprofit leaders face a rapidly changing talent landscape shaped by workforce shortages, evolving expectations, and tighter budgets.

Join Dean Dorton and Skillcloud HCM Solutions for a practical Lunch & Learn designed for nonprofit executive, HR, finance, and operations leaders focused on building strong, sustainable teams while remaining fiscally responsible.

This interactive session will explore real-world strategies for recruiting and talent management, common missteps nonprofits face, and how to recognize when roles or staffing structures need to change. We'll discuss how to better align people with positions, adapt to generational workforce shifts, and make smarter talent decisions that protect both your mission and your budget.

Come ready to learn alongside peers and leave with actionable insights you can apply right away.
