Professional Experience

Jason D. Miller is President & Chief Executive Officer of Dean Dorton. With more than 25 years of experience in technology and consulting, Jason brings a unique advisory perspective to firm leadership.

Prior to becoming CEO in 2026, Jason led the firm's Business Consulting practice, overseeing technology consulting, cybersecurity, data analytics & AI, healthcare consulting, forensic accounting, valuation, transaction advisory, HR consulting, and accounting outsourcing services. He also served as Dean Dorton's first Raleigh Market Leader. In that role, Jason was instrumental in helping integrate multiple mergers and organic strategic hires and introducing the Dean Dorton brand to our first market outside of Kentucky.

Unlike many accounting firm CEOs whose backgrounds are rooted solely in tax or assurance, Jason began his career in software development and technology consulting. His experience as a virtual CIO and strategic advisor has shaped his belief that the future of accounting lies at the intersection of technology, advisory insight, and trusted relationships.

As CEO, Jason is focused on accelerating advisory growth, developing exceptional talent, and ensuring Dean Dorton remains innovative, independent, and future-ready.
