

Lance Mann Selected for Louisville Business First's Forty Under 40

ARTICLE 06.14.18 DEAN DORTON

We are proud to announce that Lance Mann, Director of Assurance Services, has been selected for Louisville Business First's 2018 Forty Under 40 awards program. Lance is one of 40 Louisville-area professionals selected from a pool of more than 500 nominees, an honor and achievement that is well-deserved.

Louisville Business First's signature awards program honors local workers under the age of 40 who are making major strides in their careers while leaving positive marks on their communities. The program is in its 23rd year.

"I am honored by this recognition, and I look forward to meeting the other 2018 Forty Under 40 honorees."

Lance Mann,

These accomplished businesspeople include artists, accountants, bankers, educators, entrepreneurs, Fortune 500 executives, healthcare workers, lawyers, journalists, law-enforcement officers, nonprofit workers, and nearly every occupation in between.

Each honoree plays a role in making Louisville a more vibrant place and Lance's involvement in the United Way of the Bluegrass, American Red Cross, and BioMed Committee Greater Louisville, Inc., among other interests such as Bourbonomics, and his leadership roles within Dean Dorton, make him an outstanding honoree for the Forty Under 40 Class of 2018. The firm is proud to share in his accomplishments and milestone achievements such as this throughout his career.
