Jason Miller, Director of Business Consulting Services at Dean Dorton

“With this year’s recent opening of our Raleigh office, we are excited to continue broadening our presence throughout the North Carolina region. As the technology industry permeates throughout Charlotte, we believe our company expansion is a logical opportunity to offer Dean Dorton’s cloud-based accounting technology and ERP software services to the area of diverse growing companies.”

Dean Dorton will leverage the booming growth of Charlotte’s distinct tech sector, using this regional expansion to increase its ability to provide top-tier financial management and accounting technology to the city.

“The decision to expand into Charlotte, a city that has been ranked the #1 Tech Town in America, signifies Dean Dorton’s overall scaling growth strategy for the business. We look forward to working with business leaders across all industries to help provide financial management solutions that fit their needs,” says Miller.

Dean Dorton will sponsor its first Charlotte event at the 14th Annual Healthcare Finance and Growth Conference at the Ritz-Carlton on September 17th.
